

Using commas to separate items in lists

We can use commas to separate items instead of using the word 'and'.
Can you rewrite these sentences using a comma instead of 'and'?
Remember, you will need 'and' before the final item.

1) Dad made the fruit salad with apple and banana and orange and grapes and fruit juice.

2) Marley had decided to invite Christian and Sue and Amir and Valerie and Kate to the party.

3) The Green family saw lots of animals at the zoo: apes and lions and elephants and monkeys and giraffes and kangaroos.

4) Red and orange and yellow and green and blue and indigo and violet are the colours of the rainbow.

Answers: 1) Dad made the fruit salad with apple, banana, orange, grapes and fruit juice.
2) Marley had decided to invite Christian, Sue, Amir, Valerie and Kate to the party.
3) The Green family saw lots of animals at the zoo: apes, lions, elephants, monkeys, giraffes and kangaroos.
4) Red, orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo and violet are the colours of the rainbow.